

CACOLE
Canadian Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement

ACSCMO
L'Association Canadienne
de Surveillance Civile du
Maintien de l'Ordre

Early Registration and Welcome Reception for Delegates: Sunday May 27, 2012 from 7 to 9 pm

On Monday May 28, 2012 CACOLE presents
Keynote Luncheon Speaker:
Commissioner Robert Paulson
Royal Canadian Mounted Police

Some topics and speakers from the two and a half day program include:

- Technological Trends in Oversight: From "See you on YouTube," as people recorded police activity during the G20 in Toronto, to police recording interactions with the public on in-cruiser and body cameras... social media and video technology is changing the face of police accountability;
- Julian Falconer, Falconer Charney LLP, Me André Fiset, Castiglio & Associés, Joseph Markson, Markson Law Professional Corporation and Ian Scott, Ontario Special Investigations Unit (SIU) debate the Duty to Cooperate in the context of the Ontario Court of Appeal Schaeffer decision looking at issues such as access to legal counsel and the preparation of notes where police officers are subject to an investigation by the SIU;
- Investigative Skills: Dr. Curtis Clarke, Alberta Solicitor General and Ms. Portia Dewhirst, Canadian Police Sector Council discuss investigative skills competencies for police officers, application of this training for police oversight personnel and, Rick Gagnon (ISEP Training Specialist, will train you in ISEP Risk Effective Decision Making, the foundational skill in investigator training;
- Use of Force Case Study presented by the Alberta Serious Incident Response Team (ASIRT) Executive Director Clifton Purvis;
- Carol Allison-Burra, President, Canadian Association of Police Boards, David Gavsie, Chair, Ontario Civilian Police Commission Berry Vrbanovic, President, Federation of Canadian Municipalities debate the need for policing services that are effective, efficient and economical. This session explores how police boards/commissions, municipalities and provincial oversight bodies can work together to ensure that policing services are provided in ways that are adequate and effective as well as affordable and sustainable.
- Professor Kent Roach (University of Toronto): Theoretical Models of Police Investigating the Police – Contrasting the internal model with external investigation model.

CACOLE
Canadian Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement

ACSCMO
L'Association Canadienne
de Surveillance Civile du
Maintien de l'Ordre

Civilian Oversight of POLICE

CACOLE
Presents...
Program 2012

Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement in the 21st Century :
Technology and Attitudes

The Intercontinental Toronto Yorkville
220 Bloor Street West

May 28, 29 and 30th, 2012

CACOLE
Canadian Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement

ACSCMO
L'Association Canadienne
de Surveillance Civile du
Maintien de l'Ordre

CACOLE Professional Development Program

Registration as follows:

BEFORE March 31, 2012 obtain the Early Bird Rate:

- Early Bird: Rate $800 plus 13% HST

AFTER March 31, 2012:

- Regular Member Rate: $850 plus 13% HST
- Non Member Rate: $900 plus 13% HST

Each conference registration includes all meals and breaks for the duration of the program with the exception of Monday night dinner when delegates step out to enjoy Toronto's shopping, University and arts district and nightlife.

Click here to access CACOLE's website and link to the conference registration form:

<http://www.cacole.ca>

Click here to reserve your guestroom with the Intercontinental Toronto Yorkville:

<http://toronto.intercontinental.com/>

OR call for Reservations: (416) 960-5200

CACOLE
Canadian Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement

ACSCMO
L'Association Canadienne
de Surveillance Civile du
Maintien de l'Ordre

Civilian Oversight of POLICE

The Canadian Association for Civilian Oversight of Law Enforcement invites your participation in Professional Development
Program 2012

May 28, 29 and 30th, 2012